

Supporting Young Children's Language Development in Childcare and Early Childhood Education

The Center for Early Childhood Development, Education, and Policy Research (CEDEP) is collaborating with Professor Lynn Ang and the early years team at University College London, Institute of Education (UCL IOE) to examine effective practices to support the language development of children who speak different languages from their home languages in childcare and early childhood education settings. In this seminar, we will briefly introduce the joint research and discuss how to support young children's language development in childcare and early childhood education settings.

Date/time Thursday, July 25, 2024 17:00~18:30

Venue Online (Zoom)

Free of charge
Simultaneous interpretation available

Program

【Moderator】 Sachiko Nozawa (CEDEP Associate Professor)

【Introduction of the joint research project】

Addressing the Global Challenge of Educational Inequality:

Supporting Children's Early Learning and Language Development in Culturally Diverse Contexts

Yu Ishii (CEDEP Assistant Professor)

【Introduction of the lecturer】 Mikiko Tabu (Professor emeritus, Seitoku University)

【Lecture】 Supporting young children's early language development and interactions in early childhood education and care settings

保育・幼児教育現場における乳幼児のことばの発達と相互作用の支援

Prof. Lynn Ang

(Professor of Early Childhood Education UCL Institute of Education Pro-Director and Vice-Dean Research)

【Concluding comments】 Sachiko Asai (Professor, CEDEP Vice President)

Professor Lynn Ang is Professor of Early Childhood Education at the Institute of Education, University College London. Her research has focused on conceptualizing children's learning and education, and the social, cultural, policy, and macropolitical environments that mediate and shape children's experiences from early childhood through primary education. She has a rich knowledge of early childhood curriculum, diversity and equity, international early childhood policy (particularly ECEC in Southeast Asia and the Asia-Pacific region), and evaluation methodologies. For more information, please visit:

<https://www.ucl.ac.uk/ioe/people/academics/qa-lynn-ang>

Registration

To register, please use the QR code on the right.

You will receive an auto-reply e-mail with the URL for Zoom on the day of the event.

